

BAP COMPROMISE AND SETTLEMENT PROCEDURE

With Sample Pleadings

BAP appeals will not be stayed or held in abeyance pending a bankruptcy court's ruling on a motion to compromise under B.R. 9019 unless the appellant files a motion to stay the appeal or hold it in abeyance. Such motions will be dealt with as follows:

- 1) If a motion to compromise has not been filed in the bankruptcy court, the appeal will not be stayed. A clerk's order denying the motion for a stay will be entered. The order will state that the denial is without prejudice to renewal of the motion upon the actual filing of a motion to compromise in the bankruptcy court.
- 2) If a motion to compromise has been filed in the bankruptcy court, the appeal will be stayed and a clerk's order will be entered granting a limited remand. The remand will be for the limited purpose of allowing the bankruptcy court to rule on the proposed compromise. The order will instruct the bankruptcy court to forward a copy of its ruling on the proposed compromise to the BAP as part of the supplemental record on appeal.
 - a) If the bankruptcy court does not approve the compromise, the appeal will be taken out of abeyance and a briefing schedule will be established.
 - b) If the settlement is approved, a clerk's order will be entered directing the appellant to file a voluntary dismissal within fifteen days or show cause why the appeal should not be dismissed as moot. If no response is filed to the show cause order, the case will be dismissed for want of prosecution.
